Xunos Announces Equity Investment from Applied Digital

PARIS, France – June 2nd, 2026

Xunos, a European AI infrastructure developer and operator, today announced an equity investment from Applied Digital Corporation (Nasdaq: APLD), a designer, builder, and operator of next-generation digital infrastructure.

The investment unlocks critical advantages for Xunos, providing direct access to robust global financial capital and next-generation infrastructure technology already validated by major hyperscalers. Applied Digital's participation reflects its broader commitment to partnering with best-in-class operators across the global AI infrastructure ecosystem.
